FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

IPLOCKS ADDRESSES LINK BETWEEN DATABASE SECURITY AND BRAND VALUE

Company Presents at CSI 32nd Annual Computer Security Conference and Exhibition

SAN JOSE, Calif. – November 9, 2005 – IPLOCKSTM continues to educate enterprise organizations on the risks associated with database security breaches, including the powerful threat of decreased consumer confidence. The company today announced that it will present the link between database security and brand value at the CSI 32nd Annual Computer Security Conference and Exhibition, being held November 14 and 15 at the Marriott Wardman Park in Washington, D.C.

IPLOCKS Advisory Board member, Dr. Nicholas Imparato PhD, will conduct a 60-minute discussion titled: "Database Security and Global Brand Value," on November 15 at 4:45 p.m. Eastern Standard Time. During this session, Dr. Imparato will explore the correlation between enterprise branding and database security. He will discuss the impact of consumer and investor perception of corporate data breaches as well as methods for reducing risk and meeting regulatory requirements. Dr. Imparato will also address how today's enterprises can uncover vulnerabilities and prevent information theft from both trusted internal users and sophisticated hackers.
